ATTORNEY GENERAL BIDEN WELCOMES SUMMER LAW CLERKS AND INTERNS

Wilmington, DE – Attorney General Beau Biden welcomes eight law school students to the Delaware Department of Justice as Summer Law Clerks and two additional students who will work at the Department this summer through competitive internship programs. The Summer Law Clerk program affords the students the opportunity to gain broad public service experience by working in both the Civil and Criminal Divisions at the Department of Justice. Their duties will include assisting Deputy Attorneys General in hearings and trials, completing research projects, preparing briefs, writing memos, and a variety of other tasks reflecting the day-to-day experiences of Department of Justice attorneys. Qualified Clerks will also be assigned to prosecute minor misdemeanor criminal cases.

“I admire the early commitment to public service this year’s diverse group of students has demonstrated, and I am proud to welcome them to the Delaware Department of Justice this summer,” stated Attorney General Joseph R. Biden, III.
